A Message from Mayor Daniel J. Ursu

"The only ones among you who will be really happy are those who have sought and found a way to serve." – Dr. Albert Schweitzer

Certainly, one way to serve is volunteering for community service and I am pleased to let you know that volunteerism is on the move in Richmond Heights!

As reported earlier in the City Edition and in the media, the Richmond Heights Cultural Commission-sponsored Mediation Program is now up and running with fourteen (14) resident volunteers who underwent months of training to qualify as mediators for the program. Neighbors with a dispute can now bring their disagreements to the mediation teams for resolution. As reported in the past, this avoids an escalation to the police or court system and can save residents much frustration and expense. Call (216) 486-3777 for more information regarding this very beneficial program.

Residents can learn about a new opportunity to volunteer in Richmond Heights for the Community Emergency Response Team (CERT) by reading the article on page 7. The team will respond to community-wide emergencies that might occur; for instance, from a severe storm, power interruption or large water main breaks. Councilwomen Kathy Gambatese and Eloise Henry, working with Fire Chief Mike Cek and resident Kevin Sur, have organized the program which is now ready to roll out. The CERT promises to be a volunteer resident-driven asset that has the potential to make a positive difference in times of calamity!

Always available for volunteer opportunities are Recreation program activities, especially Family Day which is always the third Sunday of July. To find out more about volunteering for the Recreation Department call (216) 383-6313.

Remember to drive safely, especially in the icy and snowy conditions of this winter season!

POLICE DEPARTMENT

Responsible Pet Ownership

There is an entire Chapter in the Codified Ordinances of Richmond Heights that deals with animals and owner responsibility. This is Chapter 505 and it can be found at [www.richmondheights ohio.org](http://www.richmondheights ohio.org). Some of the most common complaints received by the Police Department are relative to animals running at large, loud or barking animals or animals being or causing a nuisance.

Although dogs bark, owners have a responsibility of ensuring that their dog(s) do not bark continuously and/or disturb other residents. Leaving a dog tied outside will usually lead to complaints from neighbors. (Ord. 505.09)

Owners are also responsible not to let their animals run at large. "At Large" means not under control by leash, cord, chain, tether or other physical control device. (Ord. 505.01)

Persons who are walking dogs are required to clean up after them. Animal excrement is required to be picked up when the animal goes on any public property or any property of another. (Ord. 505.08)

Violations of any of these ordinances can result in a $100 fine and in some cases $250 if an individual is cited for the offense more than one time in a three year period.

Vehicle Parking

Another common complaint in our neighborhoods is the parking of vehicles on lawns or other grassy areas. City Ordinance prohibits the parking of vehicles on any surface that is "not improved for vehicle use." (Ord. 351.03(19)) Any area improved for vehicle use is a surface that is either asphalt or concrete and complies with City Building Code Ordinances.

SPECIAL 60TH ANNIVERSARY COUPLE!

Dick & Bernie Blue, 60 years on November 22, 2009.

Heartiest congratulations from your home town!

NEIGHBOR PROFILE

Richmond Heights has its very own Junior Olympic champions! Yes, brothers Cameron (10) and Brandon (8) Searight won three medals each at the 2009 AAU - Junior Olympic Games held in Des Moines, Iowa this past August. Cameron won a Gold medal in Olympic Sparring, and Bronze medals in Forms and in Point Sparring. Brandon won a Gold medal in Forms, and Bronze medals in Point Sparring, and in Olympic Sparring.

Adrian and Kathy Searight are very proud of their children. Kathy is a REALTOR® with Century 21 Homestar. Adrian and his mother Grace are the owners of the Ohio Martial Art Training Center, which is where Cameron and Brandon developed their interest in and dedication to the sport of Tae Kwon Do. Their father, Master

Adrian Searight, has trained Cameron and Brandon for over 2 years. They both have competed in 13 martial arts tournaments to date. Cameron has earned 26 Medals: 19 Gold, 4 Silver, and 3 Bronze. Brandon has earned 28 Medals: 17 Gold, 4 Silver, and 7 Bronze. The brothers unanimously agreed that focus, discipline, excellent listening skills, and dedication to their daily training schedule are the key ingredients for the making of a great champion. When you combine those skills with an excellent master trainer, championships will inevitably follow.

The boys are students in the Richmond Heights school district. When asked what they enjoyed most about their school, Cameron replied, "All my teachers are so very nice" and Brandon replied, "People in school are very nice and always say hello." Science and Reading are Cameron's favorite subjects. Brandon's favorite subjects are Math and Reading. The boys love living in Richmond Heights because their neighbors are friendly, the community is clean and safe, and they have numerous friends from all walks of life.

As for their future goals, Cameron and Brandon want to help their father grow his non-profit foundation, Elite Team Foundation, established to make martial arts training available to Richmond Heights' youth and other youths throughout the Greater Cleveland area through scholarship awards. They also will be focusing on their preparation for the Nationals, West Coast Junior Olympic, and East Coast Summer Olympic Martial Arts Tournaments scheduled to take place beginning mid July 2010. Finally, they both have long-term goals to win the Heisman Trophy, play in a Super Bowl championship game, and win many Olympic Gold Medals. Given their championship drive and determination, these goals are definitely within their reach. If you would like to see these young champions in action, you can check out their videos on You Tube or visit www.ohiomatc.com.

Greenwood Farm Historical, Cultural, & Arts Association

What is likely one of the most often asked question in Richmond Heights these days? It might be, "Can you tell me what's going on at the large piece of property with the big old-fashioned farm house that sits way back on Richmond Road?"

In 2004, the City of Richmond Heights purchased one of the last large properties remaining within its borders, the Phyper estate located at 264 Richmond Road. In 2006, the City completed purchase of the two parcels of land totaling 16.9 acres of land. The cost was borne by the City's Capital Fund and later financed over a 10-year period to be paid off in 2015.

The last of the original family members and owner, Ruth Phypers Danforth remained in the main house until her death on October 21, 2006 at the age of 100. The Phyper family began living at the farm in 1908 and named the large expanse of land Greenwood Farm (GWF) which was owned and lived on by the family until June Phyper who lived to be 100 years of age died in 2006 while living in the main house.

The historical Main House, Barn, and Cottage invite many visions and dreams of what the future might be. A non-profit organization has been formed whose Board of Directors has as a mission statement: Greenwood Farm Historical, Cultural, and Arts Association, Inc., is dedicated to the preservation, renovation, operation, maintenance and programs of Greenwood Farms, and enhancing the use of the property by promoting and strengthening the diverse historical, environmental, cultural, and artistic assets of the community.

The GWF Board has begun a membership drive to engage the community in and around Richmond Heights including the business sector to raise funds that will support necessary maintenance and fund strategic planning to ensure its goals.

The Founders Circle for Charter Members of the Greenwood Farm Historical, Cultural and Fine Arts Association, Inc. will lay a foundation for the organization by embracing two core values:

- Charter Members will help establish the foundation of this organization for today and for future generations.
- A healthy community needs to celebrate its history, sustain the environment, embrace its cultural diversity, and nurture creativity.

A Founders Circle plaque will commemorate all Charter Members.

The three levels for Charter Membership are:

Founder (Individual) at	$50.00
Founding Family at	$100.00
Founding Benefactor	$250.00 (businesses/corporate)

The GWF Board of Directors sincerely hope you will join us at one of these levels of membership. The Charter Membership Drive will conclude the end of May, 2010.

Additional information can be found at <http://www.greenwoodfarmassn.org> where you will also find a link to and can join our Greenwood Farm Volunteers - Yahoo groups. As a registered volunteer you will receive updates on work activities ongoing at the Farm.

Membership forms and Volunteer registrations can be found on the web site or picked up at City Hall. Checks may be made payable to Greenwood Farm Historical, Cultural, and Arts Association, and mailed to: City of Richmond Heights; 26789 Highland Road; Richmond Heights, Ohio 44143
